61st International Symposium
ELMAR-2019
Zadar, Croatia, September 23-25, 2019

Call for Papers

ELMAR-2019 symposium will be traditionally held in a beautiful town of Zadar on the Croatian Adriatic Sea. Only 3 km away from the conference hotel is the "open-air museum" - town of Zadar, where the 3,000 year old history of the city can be found in every stone. Just take a stroll through the narrow alleys and discover the many hidden angles of the city. Even Alfred Hitchcock was enthusiastic about it: apparently he said that sunsets are better here than in California.

ELMAR symposium attracts significant scientists working in fields of multimedia, image and video processing, navigation systems, robotics, speech and audio processing, telecommunications, wireless communications, electronics in marine, naval architecture, and many more. Every year ELMAR symposium also gathers specialists of various kinds (government representatives, navy, industry, universities, and various business people from the region) to discuss the most recent issues and contribute to appropriate market development.

The scientific program includes keynote talks by eminent international experts and contributed papers. Papers accepted by two independent reviewers will be published in symposium proceedings available at the symposium and later submitted to the IEEE Xplore database.
